PRESIDENT'S REPORT

Granville Historical Society

“A Place where heritage & culture are valued & celebrated.”

Granville Boys High School has approached us to see if six of their students are able to perform community service for us in September. After discussion it was decided that the best community service that they could perform is to assist us with research on the World War 1 Soldiers from the Parramatta & District Soldiers. This should be a good project because we will get information on six soldiers for our files, the boys will be taught research and presentation skills, and they will be able to make a display with the material for Remembrance Day in November 2012. We need to put a network line in to access the Internet, but this will be helpful for future projects.

We have been busy once again with speaking assignments, once again, we have performed two for the Westmead Rehabilitation Centre, and they have booked two more. Also the staff of L J Hooker came last Wednesday to listen to a PowerPoint about the history of Granville, the staff was so animated and interested it took 2 hours instead of the 1 hour it was scheduled for.

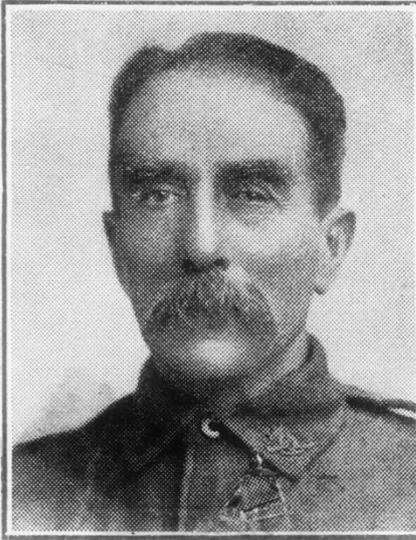

Daphne Wiles and her boys, John and Steven have been working extremely hard, they have cleared June's shelves of books, will have to work hard obtaining more books, don't want them to feel unwanted and unloved. Frances Bluhdorn, has been working with Arthur Naylor teaching him the finer points of the Database. The middle room boys Dennis, John, John, & Clifford are ploughing through the work scheduled, and the middle room girls Stephanie, Betty, Robyn and Lynne are making a hole in the Metcalfe & Morris folders, we are fast running out of room for filing them, they have just about filled the cabinets that Daphne and the Sydney Phillumenist Club donated to us.

28th July 2012 is our Annual General Meeting, anyone wishing to stand for the committee please see June for Nomination Sheets, nominations need to be to the secretary

by the 21st July 2012. Barry G Bullivant OAM

World War 1 Bravery Awards part 2

Part I of the transcript of Colin Humphreys' presentation 'Forgotten Heroes: Soldiers from Granville decorated for bravery in World War One' was published in last month's Guardian. Part 2 lists the awards from Military Medal to Mention in Despatches.

Spr. W. LONGFORD, M.M.
Granville.

One of the more amazing stories to come out of the war was that of Sapper Walter Longford of Woodville Road Granville, who at 63 was believed to be the oldest soldier in the AIF to be awarded the Military Medal. He was decorated for his bravery in helping to put out a fire in an ammunition dump. Longford had been on duty at a railway depot one night when German aircraft bombed the adjacent ammunition store, setting it alight. He called an officer and the pair succeeded in putting out the flames, preventing a major explosion.

Walter Longford had emigrated from England with his wife in 1882, and lived in Granville for almost 50 years, most of that time working for the NSW Railways as a porter or fireman. He retired from the railways after his wife died in 1914. He visited England in 1915 to see his family and when, on returning to Australia, he heard the army needed railway men to help move troops, guns, and supplies in the war, decided to enlist. He explained later that although he was over the age limit to enlist as a fighter, he felt that, having health and strength, it was his duty to help in some other way to win the war. He enlisted on 15 January 1917 and left for Perth nine days later with about 30 other NSW railwaymen, to join a West Australian unit, the 5th Broad Gauge Railway Operating Company, to serve on the Western Front. His army career ended when the Anzac commander, General Birdwood noticed him while inspecting his unit. The general spoke to him and asked his age. '45', he replied. 'Yes, that's your military age,' the general said, 'but how old actually are you?' Whereupon Walter was forced to admit he was 65. 'Look old chap,' General Birdwood said. 'You've done enough over here; go back to your family'.<sup>1</sup>

Pte. A. H. HAMILTON, M.M.
Son of Mrs. Hamilton, Lumley-street, Granville.

Private Alexander Hugh Hamilton, aged 21, son of Mrs Laura Hamilton of Lumley Street, was the first Granville soldier decorated at Gallipoli, receiving a Military Medal. In the charge against the Turks at Hill 60 on 27 August 1915, he showed himself to be a fearless fighter. He succeeded in entering the enemy's trenches under heavy rifle and shell fire, and assisted in holding it all that night until relieved. He enlisted on 27 January 1915, served with the 17th Battalion in Egypt, Gallipoli and the Western Front, and was promoted to Corporal in May 1917. He returned to Australia in June 1918, suffering chronic bronchitis.<sup>2</sup>

Lance Corporal Hubert John Wood, son of George and Sara Wood of Membrey Street Granville, and the brother of Sergeant Alfred Arthur Wood, DCM and MM, was also a hero. At Mont St Quentin on 31st August 1918, although wounded in one hand, he rushed an enemy post, killing two Germans with his revolver and taking four others prisoner. The pain of his wound forced him to relinquish his gun, but he refused to withdraw and went forward with his crew, directing their work. He was awarded the Military Medal for what was described as a fine example of endurance and determination under very trying circumstances.<sup>3</sup>

Lance-Cpl. H. J. (BERT) WOOD, M.M.
Enlisted August, 1915; returned April, 1919.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wood, Granville (date of Liverpool).

Cpl. O. G. KOHLHARDT
Enlisted October 1915. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Kohlhardt, Trongate-street, Granville

Lieutenant Otto Godfrey Charles Kohlhardt, from Trongate Street Granville, and serving with the 12th Field Artillery Battery, received the Military Medal for his part in the advance at Péronne on 31 August 1918. He was in charge of the signals communications of his battery and with great bravery throughout the day under enemy shell fire he supervised and assisted in the maintenance of communications with the battery observation post. He enlisted as a gunner in October 1915 and with regular promotions returned from the war as a Lieutenant.<sup>4</sup>

Bombardier Leo Dunne Hines, of Bennalong Street Granville, enlisted on 4 September 1916. He was awarded the Military Medal for most conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty for his work with an ammunition wagon near Péronne on 2/3 September 1918. As he was guiding it over very difficult country through shell holes and barbed wire under heavy fire, a shell hit the team, wounding the drivers and himself slightly. The remnants of the team bolted. He at once assisted the wounded men to an aid post and pushed on through a heavy barrage to report to his battery. He then returned to the wagon lines but a German plane dropped a bomb, killing one man and wounding the drivers of a team a short distance ahead of him. Placing the wounded drivers on his wagon, he continued on his way but another bomb fell, wounding the horses and three drivers of another team. He again took control of the situation and sent a man for an ambulance while he himself attended the wounded and assisted in their removal.<sup>5</sup>

Sgt. J. ALEX. HUTCHISON.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Hutchison, Daniel-street,
Granville.

Sergeant John Alexander Hutchison of the 54th Battalion, from Daniel Street Granville, also earned a Military Medal at Péronne. The citation praised his resourcefulness, judgement and daring, and said his sound leadership and coolness were an inspiration to his men. Sergeant Hutchison was one of the first men to enlist at Granville on 17 August 1914, aged 20. He landed at Gallipoli with the 2nd Battalion on 25 April 1915 but was wounded in the early fighting. He was wounded a second time in early August in the Battle of Lone Pine, in which 450 men from his battalion were killed or wounded. Transferred to the 54th Battalion, he next saw action in the middle of 1916. He was wounded at the Somme in October 1916 and again in April. He was then classified as unfit for further service and returned to Australia in December 1918.<sup>6</sup>

Corporal Rayment Moore was born in Granville, the son of John and Frances Moore of Milton Street, and was 19 when he enlisted in August 1915. He was sent overseas with 4th Battalion reinforcements, but spent most of the war with the 1st Divisional Signal Company. He was commended for his coolness and devotion to duty during very heavy shell fire at Pozières in August 1916, and won the Military Medal at Harbonnières in August 1918. An enemy shell struck the signals office during a heavy bombardment, killing or wounding practically the whole staff. Despite being badly shaken, he remained in the office, working to maintain communications under the most trying circumstances. He was evacuated to England later that month, and spent six months in hospital before returning to Australia in March 1919.<sup>7</sup>

Sgt. LAURIE BARBER, M.M.
Son of Mrs. F. Barber, Goodstreet, Granville.

Sergeant Lawrence Walter Barber of 36 Battalion from Good Street Granville was awarded the Military Medal for his courage and resourcefulness when assisting a French force under attack near his battalion's position at Hangard Wood near Fromelles in April 1918. Sergeant Wood was in charge of a Lewis machine gun post and, at the French commander's request, took the gun out of the post with some of his crew, and assisted the French to drive back the enemy. Later in the day his post was subjected to concentrated shellfire from enemy batteries. He remained there until all his men had been killed or wounded, and kept his gun in action all the time. Sergeant Barber was born in Granville and enlisted in March 1917, when he was given the rank of sergeant because of his five years service in the militia.<sup>8</sup>

Sergeant Alan Cameron was born in Granville and lived with his mother Mrs S. Cameron in Harris Street Harris Park before enlisting in the 18th Battalion in June 1915. At Rainecourt near Amiens on 9 August 1918, he took a Lewis machine gun section forward, and showing absolute disregard of danger dispersed an enemy machine gun post that was holding up his company's advance. He was awarded the Military Medal. Sergeant Cameron was wounded in action two days later and evacuated to England. He'd previously spent periods in hospital after suffering shell shock in July 1916.<sup>9</sup>

Sgt. ALAN CAMERON, M.M.
Embarked early 1915. Son of Mrs. W. Cameron, Harris Park.

Pte. H. S. DARE, M.M.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Dare, Commercial Bank, Granville.

Twenty-three-year-old Private Herbert Scott Dare was awarded a Military Medal for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Strazeele in France on 14 April 1918. As a company runner, he carried messages from company headquarters to 20th Battalion headquarters during extremely heavy machine gun fire and artillery barrages, doing 5 trips within a very short period. Although totally exhausted when he reached battalion headquarters he only waited a few minutes before he returned through the barrage to his company commander. Private Dare did officer training after this engagement, and was promoted to Lieutenant in 1919. He was the son of a well-known Granville bank manager.<sup>10</sup>

Frederick James Darke, son of James Darke of Sydney Road, was another young man who began army life as a private and graduated at the end of the war as a Lieutenant. He joined the AIF aged 18 in June 1915 and was sent overseas with 13th Battalion reinforcements. He was awarded a Military Medal for his leadership, coolness and contempt of danger in the advance on 18 September 1918. Near Le Verguier there was much confusion and loss of direction because of enemy wire and a thick haze, and men became scattered and disorganised. Sergeant Darke went forward, collected the scattered elements, including men from other units, organised them into a platoon, and led this composite party to their objective.<sup>11</sup>

Dvr. P. T. HALL, M.M.
Enlisted May, 1915. Son of Mrs. E. Knight, Stanmore, late of Auburn.

Driver Percy Thomas Hall, of Margaret Street Granville, serving with the 17th Field Artillery Battery, was awarded a Military Medal at Le Verguier on 18 September 1918. The citation said he showed great determination and bravery under a heavy bombardment by high explosive shells and gas. Driver Hall enlisted in May 1915, aged 31, and returned home on 3 May 1919.<sup>12</sup> Two sons of Mrs Florence Davison of The Avenue Granville were awarded the Military Medal.

Sergeant Darcy Hilton Davison enlisted aged 24 as a private in August 1915 and by the end of 1918 had been promoted to Lieutenant. In November 1917 he was serving with the 13th Field Artillery Battery at Westhoek Ridge near Ypres, when a fire broke out after an enemy shell hit a dump of 500 howitzer shells. Sergeant Davison rushed over and succeeded in putting out the blaze, thus saving a large quantity of ammunition.<sup>13</sup> His younger brother,

Lester George Davison, was 18 when he enlisted three months before Darcy. He served with the 1st Machine Gun Company in France from March 1916, and was promoted three times over the next 18 months. On 11 September 1918 Sergeant Davison was in charge of a sub-section of two guns attached to the 4th Infantry Battalion when an enemy counter attack compelled the Infantry to withdraw. With great coolness Sergeant Davison got his guns into action to cover the withdrawal, and only withdrew to the outpost line four hours later. During the attack the officer in charge of the section was wounded. Sergeant Davison assumed command of the section and though suffering from the effects of gas remained on duty until relieved. He was then evacuated to hospital.<sup>14</sup>

A Military Medal was awarded to Private Frederick Joseph Dearie of the 17th Battalion. He was born Joseph Frederick Abell in Granville in 1896, but served under the name Dearie. His father, Arthur George Abell, died when he was three months old, and he was cared for by his maternal grandmother, Ellen Dearie, until she died in 1912, and then by an aunt, Mrs S. Strong of First Street Clyde. He joined the AIF in November 1915, and was honoured for conspicuous courage in carrying messages from the front line to the rear during an attack by the enemy near Noreuil, on 15 April 1917. He had to pass continually through heavy machine gun and rifle fire on both forward and back journeys. At one period after the telephone had broken down and it was of the utmost importance to get information through, he had to pass overland in full view of the enemy. He was killed in action at Bullecourt 18 days later.<sup>15</sup>

Cpl. ALBERT EASY, M.M.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Easy, Harris Park.

Corporal Albert Easy, a farmer from Lismore, and son of James Easy of Wigram Street, received the Military Medal for his courage and devotion to duty near Zonnebeke in October 1917. As an N.C.O in 12th Field Company of Engineers, he was in charge of sappers repairing a duckwalk track when the enemy suddenly began shelling them. He succeeded in getting his section under cover with the exception of one man who was wounded. At great personal risk he went back into the barrage, and, though becoming wounded himself, assisted the man to safety. He was wounded three times in two weeks but his injuries were not serious. He was promoted to sergeant in October 1918 and returned to Australia in the following March.<sup>16</sup>

Private Thomas Alfred Langlois, a married man from Inkerman Street Granville, enlisted in February 1916, and 15 months later was with the 53rd Battalion, occupying part of the Hindenburg Line near Bullecourt. He was awarded the Military Medal for conspicuous bravery and devotion to duty as a communications linesman. On 10 May 1917 the enemy launched an artillery barrage in preparation for a counter attack. Shells twice cut the lines and each time Private Langlois went out and repaired them amid very heavy shelling, thus restoring communications at a very critical time.<sup>17</sup>

Sergeant Jack Lennox was born at Granville in 1893, and lived in Trongate Street while working as a mechanical engineer at Clyde Engineering. He enlisted in February 1915 and was posted to the 8th Field Company Engineers. He was awarded the Military Medal for continued gallantry and devotion to duty between February and September 1918. The citation said his great personal courage and devotion to duty had been a magnificent example to all ranks.<sup>18</sup>

Sgt. J. LYNCH, M.M.
Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, Ada-street, Harris Park.

Corporal James Lynch, of Ada Street Harris Park, earned a Military Medal in April 1917 for his part in the capture of the village of Demicourt, a key spot in the Allied advance to the Hindenburg Line. While in charge of a group entering the village, he handled his men with great boldness and skill, driving the Germans from that portion of the town. When an enemy force of 50 counter-attacked soon afterwards, he assisted his patrol leader in driving off the Germans, inflicting heavy losses. Corporal Lynch enlisted in July 1915 and returned to Australia in January 1919.<sup>19</sup>

Drv. G. R. MALLINSON, M.M.
Son of Mr. G. Mallinson, Trongate-street,
Granville.

Driver George Richerby Mallinson, a married man of Trongate Street Granville, received the Military Medal for conspicuous gallantry and devotion to duty near Ypres in October 1917. His role in the 5th Field Artillery was moving ammunition supplies, and while proceeding along the Menin Road, his team came under heavy enemy shell fire. A number of planks were thrown among the horses by a shell explosion, but Driver Mallinson, by his coolness and resourcefulness, succeeded in getting the team clear, averting casualties to men and horses. George Mallinson was born in Granville in 1893 and worked as a carriage builder at Clyde Engineering before enlisting in July 1915. His brother, Private James Mallinson, was killed in action at Broodseinde Ridge near Ypres on 4 October 1917.<sup>20</sup>

Driver Francis Joseph Mattes, of Inkerman Street Granville, enlisted on 24 August 1914 and served in Egypt, Gallipoli and the Western Front. He was awarded the Military Medal while with the 1st Battalion near Ypres in October 1917, He was in charge of a transport wagon that was heavily shelled, and had to load and unload his wagon on several occasions despite numerous casualties and horses being bogged.<sup>21</sup>

Private Robert Shepherd of Inkerman Street Granville joined up in May 1915, three months after his 18th birthday. He embarked for the Middle East in June, and in the next 3½ years served in Egypt, Gallipoli and the Western Front with the 4th Battalion. In May 1917, he received the Military Medal for his disregard of danger and devotion to duty. The citation said that as a battalion runner near Bullecourt he did magnificent work carrying messages at all hours through heavy barrages.<sup>22</sup>

Cpl. F. TAYLOR, M.M.
Embarked September, 1915. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor, Maud-street, Granville.

Lance Corporal Franklyn Taylor, of Maud Street Granville, employed before the war as a carriage builder at Clyde Engineering, was awarded a Military Medal and Bar for rushing an enemy machine gun, and capturing it, on two separate occasions. He enlisted in June 1915, aged 22, and embarked for Egypt three months later, but after contracting a bad case of pneumonia didn't arrive at the war front until 1917. At Morlancourt in May 1918, he noticed an enemy machine gun firing on an Australian position and causing casualties. He and another man charged the gun, capturing it and one of its crew. Three months later near Amiens, he became isolated in fog but spotted an enemy machine gun inflicting casualties on a flank battalion. Without hesitation he rushed it alone, captured the gun, and killed or wounded the crew of six. He was wounded in action himself the next day, and had to be repatriated to England for treatment. After six months in hospital and convalescence, he returned to Australia in February 1919.<sup>23</sup>

The Meritorious Service Medal (MSM) was for meritorious service by Non-Commissioned Officers.

Private Harry Dinning, son of Mrs H. Dinning of New York Street Granville, and serving with the 2nd Pioneers Battalion as a company orderly room clerk, was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal in January 1919 for consistent good work and devotion to duty at Gallipoli, Flers, Bullecourt and Ypres.<sup>24</sup>

Corporal John Charles Ironmonger, 31, of Crown Street Granville was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal for bravery and devotion to duty while in charge of the motor ambulance cars working in the forward area on the Menin and Zonnebeke Roads in October 1917.<sup>25</sup>

Private Colin McLeod of Woodville Road Granville, a horse-breaker in civilian life, enlisted in September 1915, aged 21, and served with the 1st Light Horse Regiment in Egypt, Sinai and Palestine. He was awarded the French Croix de Guerre for his role in fighting near Umm Esh Shert in the Jordan Valley, in the Sinai and Palestine campaign in April 1918.<sup>26</sup>

Private Edward Carl Croft of Stuart Street Granville enlisted in October 1915 three months past his 18th birthday. He served with the 2nd and 3rd Battalions in France from the middle of 1916 and impressed with his exceptional keenness and devotion to duty. At Hesbecourt near Péronne in September 1918, he earned the Belgian Croix de Guerre for his coolness and disregard of danger while working with a Lewis gun.<sup>27</sup>

Sergeant Eric David Wooster of Wigram Street Harris Park was another early recruit, enlisting on 24 August 1914. He embarked from Sydney as a member of the 1st Field Ambulance on 20 October 1914. He was twice Mentioned in Despatches, in March and September 1917, for gallant service and devotion to duty in his administration of the ambulance, and was awarded the Belgian Croix de Guerre in July 1918. He returned to Australia in October 1918.<sup>28</sup>

Mentioned in Despatches (MID) is not an award of a medal but a commendation of an act of gallantry.

To be "Mentioned in Despatches" is when an individual is mentioned by name in an official report by a senior commander for having carried out a noteworthy act of gallantry or service.

Major Charles Alexander Whyte, of Arthur Street Granville, was Mentioned in Despatches for his efforts in the organisation and formation of 5th Pioneer Battalion in Egypt during March and April 1916. He was born in Scotland and served with the Black Watch, and the British Army in the Boer War. He enlisted on 27 August 1914 and served in Egypt and Gallipoli, where he was wounded twice. He also served in France, where he was made an honorary major, and returned to Australia in August 1918.<sup>29</sup>

Warrant Officer John William Richards was twice Mentioned in Despatches while he was serving with the 3rd Battalion. Born in London, he was a veteran of 12 years service with the Royal Marines Light Infantry when he enlisted in the AIF in July 1915, aged 32.<sup>30</sup>

Private James McCall was born in Granville in 1895, worked as a shop assistant and enlisted in December 1916. He was Mentioned in Despatches for his work with the 55th Battalion on the Western Front between September and November 1918.<sup>31</sup>

Private Robert Fox, a dairyman, of Ferndell Street Granville, was Mentioned in Despatches, in July 1919.<sup>32</sup>

James Joseph Sowter of Woodville Road was one of Granville's longest serving soldiers in World War One. Pre-war, he was in the militia for six years and had the rank of sergeant in 1914. A week after Britain declared war, he joined the Australian Naval and Military Expeditionary Force that was sent to New Guinea to seize German possessions in the Pacific. He returned in April 1915 and after three months' break, enlisted in the AIF. Serving in Egypt and the Western Front, he rose to the rank of Lieutenant before returning to Australia in April 1919. He was twice recommended for awards, in July and November 1918, but they were not endorsed.<sup>33</sup>
